

I believe that satellite radio has every right to broadcast any type of radio it wants to. If the NAB wants to stifle technology, then they have a long hard road in front of them. You can't stop progress in technology.